RIBERA DEL DUERO
RUTA DEL VINO

Ribera del Duero is located in the Castilla y León region and is part of four provinces: Burgos, Segovia, Soria and Valladolid. Throughout its 115 kilometers of region, we will find a land of vineyards and cereals that has a rich culture, gastronomy and heritage, where more than 300 wineries operate under the Ribera del Duero Denomination of Origin.

It belongs to the Wine Routes of Spain Product Club and is the third most visited route of the entire club.

It was declared 'Best Wine Region of the Year' by Wine Enthusiast and recommended by The New York Times, Washington Post or National Geographic UK as one of the essential wine routes in Spain.

"The third most visited Wine Route in Spain"

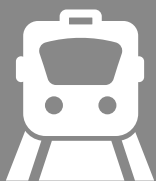

This guide aims to offer information about the existing resources on the Ribera del Duero Wine Route to organize congresses, team training, fairs, incentives, as well as vacations and getaways to Ribera del Duero.

Winemaking in the Ribera del Duero goes back more than 2,000 years, when the Vacceos and the Romans made it one of the main agricultural activities in the region.

Although, since the creation of the Designation of Origin more value has been placed on winemaking in one of the best wine regions in the world.

The wineries offer singular activities, due to their commitment in offering genuine and quality wine tourism.

Our destination has been recognized as Wine Region of The Year and it's been recommended by The New York Times, The Washington Post, National Geographic or Traveler among others prestigious publications.

In 2023, the Route has been awarded by the FIJET prize for the Best Wine Route in Spain and with a special mention for the Best Gastronomic Route by National Geographic.

LANDSCAPES

The vineyards adorn the slopes and valleys of Ribera del Duero to join with natural places of a great value, like the Hoces del Río Riaza Natural Park (Montejo de la Vega, Segovia), one of the largest bird of prey refuges in Europe. Accredited Q official recognition of tourism.

Special enclaves such as Las Loberas (Caleruega, Burgos), Pico Gurugu (Bocos de Duero, Valladolid), wetlands such as the Valcabadillo Lagoons (Tubilla del Lago, Burgos) or geological caprices such as the Karstic Farallones (Bocigas de Perales, Soria), the Fairy Chimneys (Langa de Duero, Soria) or natural viewpoints such as the Cuesta Manvirgo hill (Quintanamanvirgo, Burgos) are a small sample of the offer of riverside natural spaces.

DIVERSITY

CULTURE

Arqueological Sites, Romanesque temples, castles, monasteries and palaces dominate our towns. Meanwhile, in bellow some of them, is hidden another 'city' formed by underground cellars.

A VIBRANTING REGION

Summer and patronal festivals, several of which have been declared as Tourist Interest. Festivals like La Bajada del Ángel during The Holy Week of Aranda de Duero and Peñafiel or 'El Chúndara', a parade during its summer festival.

Sonorama-Ribera Music Festival, that every August brings together more than 60,000 people a day, or The Great Festival of The Harvest which is celebrated during the last weekend of September, are two of the most important events.

EIGHT HISTORICAL-ARTISTIC SETS

Gumiel de Izán, Haza, Langa de Duero, Peñafiel, Peñaranda de Duero, Rejas de San Esteban, San Esteban de Gormaz and Vadocondes.
